Historical Society of Princeton
at Urdike Farmstead

Our work focuses on engaging everyone with Princeton's rich history – sharing its resources, stories, and lessons in ways that are meaningful and personal.

A group of people, including a man in a blue shirt and hat, are gathered around a large, ornate stone monument outdoors. The man in the blue shirt is pointing towards the monument, and the others are looking in the same direction.

Historic Walking Tours

A man in a blue shirt is holding a newspaper titled "The Princeton Herald" and showing it to a young boy sitting at a wooden table. Other people are visible in the background, suggesting a classroom or library setting.

Regional School Curriculum Support

A young girl in a red and white striped shirt and a young man in a yellow shirt are sitting at a table, focused on building with yellow and black LEGO bricks. They are surrounded by various LEGO sets and boxes.

Building Princeton Lego Program

A group of people are gathered around a table, looking at large, open books or documents. One person is pointing at a page, and another is looking at a small object on the table. The setting appears to be a library or archive.

Open Archive Programs

A room with wooden floors and white walls, featuring an exhibition. There are informational panels on the wall, a small table with a stool, and a digital display stand. A window with a view of the outdoors is visible in the background.
